

Go Outside

Raindrops Relay

What you need:

2 plastic baggies
4 buckets

How To Play

Put a bunch of pin holes in the plastic baggie. The group lines up sitting down, one in front of the other, so they are facing the back of the person in front of them. The bucket filled with water goes behind the last person. The empty bucket goes in front of the first person. This bucket should be marked at the halfway point. The baggie is given to the first person. When the race starts, the first person takes the baggie to the back bucket, fills it with water and then tries to get the water to the front bucket, but she has to carry it over the heads of her team. She dumps what water is left in her baggie into the front bucket.
